Tax Campaign.
At Virginia City last Saturday evening the Republicans held a large and very enthusiastic meeting, which was addressed by Messrs. Colcord, Newlands, Fowling, Cheney, Talbot and Egan, and the frequent and loud applause received by the speakers showed that the most populous county of the State is safe for the entire Republican ticket.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Ex-Secretary Belknap Found Dead in Bed.

JUSTICE MILLER STILL ALIVE.

The Presidential Party to be at Pittsburg To-Day.

Mrs. Miller Rearrested and Held for Examination.

Death of an Ex-Cabinet Minister.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Ex-Secretary of War W. W. Belknap was found dead this morning in his room adjoining his office at 1420 New York Avenue. The coroner has been summoned. It is thought his death was due to paralysis.

A FURTHER ACCOUNT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—General W. W. Belknap, Secretary of War during President Grant's term, was found dead in bed this morning. It is believed his death occurred between 1 o'clock Saturday night and 9 o'clock Sunday morning. From John W. Cameron, General Belknap's business associate, it is learned that for some time it has been the General's habit to meet a few friends at the home of Dr. Hill, who lives less than a square away, for a social game of cards. Saturday night he was with them as usual and remained until nearly midnight, when he returned to his apartments in the Evans building at 1420 New York Avenue, presumably to retire immediately.

He was never again seen alive. About 8:30 this morning Cameron arrived at the building, and proceeded to the second floor where their offices and the General's apartments were located.

The servant girl who keeps the rooms in order rapped at the door and inquired if General Belknap was out of the city, saying she had several times since Sunday morning tried the doors, but found them locked.

The door was then forced open, and the body was found partly uncovered on the bed, with the left arm bent rigidly towards the head and the left hand tightly clinched, as though death had come while he was in convulsions. The bed clothes were somewhat disarranged, as if there had been a slight struggle for breath.

The physicians summoned, after making a brief examination, expressed the opinion that death resulted from a stroke of apoplexy.

The coroner soon afterward arrived and took the body in charge. An autopsy disclosed the fact that the immediate cause of death was inflammation of the inner lining of the heart.

Mrs. Belknap, who was in New York, also the General's son, Hugh, from Chicago. For some years Belknap has been almost a constant sufferer from gout. In February he had a severe attack, and since that time he lost in flesh between thirty and forty pounds and he has been in poor health.

On His Way to Washington.

SIDNEY (Oct.), Oct. 13.—The special train bearing President Harrison and party pulled out of Indianapolis on its return to Washington at 6 this morning. The President spent last night aboard the car, and as he arose this morning, appeared much refreshed from the day's rest afforded him yesterday at Indianapolis. All felt that to-day was to be the trying ordeal of the trip. The States of Indiana and Ohio were to be crossed, and the schedule provided for a dozen brief stops to enable old friends and opportunity to greet the President.

The speeches that these occasions would necessitate would be very trying and require the utmost physical exertion.

An immense crowd assembled at Anderson, Ind., where the President made a brief speech, referring to the rapid development of this region since the discovery and utilization of natural gas. He spoke of the presence of the school children, and took occasion to speak a good word for the public school; commended putting brawny men in the factories, and sending the children to school. He pointed out the advantages of learning, and told the boys there was nothing to which they might not aspire in this country.

When the city of Muncie was reached one of the greatest demonstrations of the day took place.

At Winchester, where several thousand people had assembled, every building in the city was decorated, even the telegraph poles were adorned with the Stars and Stripes.

Here the President said: "It is essential to the existence of a country like ours that thought and speech should be free, and free thought means a differing of thoughts; it means that in the individual exercise of the faculties God has given us we will reach public questions by different conclusions, but, as I remarked the other day to another audience, so long as our differences stand like opposing buttresses of a great arch confronting each other but united above in love for the constitution and the flag, we have nothing to fear."

He spoke to the children assembled, touched upon the value of the public school and counseled a love for the flag.

Fire and Loss of Life.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A four-story building on Middle street, occupied by Rowley & Brock, hat, cap and helmet manufacturers and Government contractors for military headwear, was burned this afternoon. Six persons were burned to death and thirty seriously injured. The fire broke out in the workshops on the upper floor. Thirty persons were in the building. Two minutes after the fire was discovered the building was a mass of flames, which spread so rapidly that the work people found every avenue of escape, except the windows, cut off. Through these some jumped to the ground. Five women were killed by jumping from the windows.

Several cool-headed occupants of the upper rooms procured pieces of sheeting, which they tied together and descended by this means. In many instances the sheeting parted and those who were seeking to escape the flames were precipitated to the ground and badly injured.

Socialist Congress.

By Cable and Associated Press.

HALL, Oct. 13.—At to-day's session of the Socialist Congress Herr Ginger made an address, in which he pointed out that the attendance at the Congress of delegates from Paris, London, Copenhagen, Geneva, Warsaw, Vienna, The Hague and Stockholm carried the prediction of Mark Karx to the effect that the proletarians of all countries would eventually unite to fulfill the mission of socialism, and effect the liberation of suffering humanity.

Letters expressive of sympathy with the objects of the Congress were read from American, Austrian, Swiss, Italian, French and English Socialist societies for the promotion of workingmen's education. An address from the Italian Socialists was also read.

Discharged and Re-Arrested.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The case of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Field was brought before Judge Barrett in the Supreme Court chamber to-day on a writ of habeas corpus and both were discharged. The charge was receiving stolen funds from the banking firm of J. M. Field & Co.

Immediately after her discharge, United States Marshal Bernhardt arrested Mrs. Miller upon a warrant issued by Commissioner Shields who held Mrs. Miller for examination.

Attempted Suicide.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. O'Connor, wife of Arthur O'Connor, member of the House of Commons, who was found yesterday unconscious, with a thigh broken, received her injuries in an attempt to commit suicide. She is insane and is now in the asylum. Her condition is critical.

Unfit to Reign.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 13.—The physicians attending the King of Holland had a consultation to-day with two Cabinet Ministers, when it was decided that the condition of the King rendered him unfit to reign.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13, 9 A. M.—Justice Miller is still alive.

The Peach Market.

Delaware and Maryland papers are calling upon the peach growers of those States to make a grand exhibit at the World's Fair, and thus neutralize California's growing popularity and uphold the fame of their own regions for the production of the peach. This enterprise upon the part of our Eastern friends is certainly worthy of encouragement; but they will find it a more difficult task to neutralize California's supremacy than to kill out the "yellows."

THE PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Washoe County, in convention assembled, renew its pledges of faith in, and allegiance to the doctrine and principles of the Republican party, which in the future, as in the past, will continue to vouchsafe to the people the broadest and most enlightened freedom, consistent with safety to the State, and the perpetuity of our form of Government.

We most heartily endorse the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention at Virginia City as a manly and conservative declaration of principles suited to the necessities and demands of the people of this State, and strangely contrast with the billingsgate and ribaldry of the Democratic indictment which was presented by the Grand Jury of that party, in their recent State Convention.

We recognize in our delegation in Congress Hon. John P. Jones, Wm. M. Stewart and H. P. Bartine, able and efficient public servants, who have been untiring in their efforts to promote the interests of the people of Nevada, as well as those of the whole country, and we desire to accord to them that full measure of praise which their valuable services so prominently merit.

That we commend the wise and conservative administration of President Harrison, who has redeemed the pledges so solemnly made to the people in the National Republican Platform, and has fully justified the confidence reposed in him by the suffrages of the American people.

We endorse the action of the Republicans in Congress in increasing the tariff on wool, so as to encourage the production of staples hitherto imported, which Grover Cleveland, in a special message recommended to be placed on the free list; and in the passage over Democratic votes, of a silver bill which has increased the value of the product of our mines more than ten million dollars, added seventy-five million to the value of our wheat crop, one hundred million to the oat crop, and two hundred million to the corn crop of the United States.

It is with profound sorrow that the Republic of Nevada received the news of Hon. C. C. Stevenson, late Governor of this State. We deplore his loss in the councils of the party, where he was ever ready by word and deed to advance her interests in every honorable way; and the whole people of the State have been deprived of the services of an honest and conscientious public servant, his family of a kind, indulgent and affectionate husband and father; and to the bereaved members of his household we extend our most profound and sincere sympathy.

It is the sense of this convention that the best way to promote and foster the upbuilding of Nevada is to provide and maintain good government, with a system of low taxation, and to this end we favor the most rigid economy in every department of the public service, and the enactment of such legislation as will secure to the people of the State the lightest possible burdens, without material injury to the administration of affairs.

We demand that the membership of the Legislature be reduced to forty, their per diem to six dollars per day, and their mileage to actual and necessary traveling expenses in going to and from the State Capital.

We are in favor of the donation of the public lands to the State to be used for a basis of water storage and reclamation; at this same time we call attention to the fact that a large portion of our previous grant is much exhausted, and can be used for these purposes without waiting for additional appropriations.

We are in favor of the use under wise plans and safe management of the large fund lying idle in the State Treasury in a way to quicken into life and start it through our great alleys, reclaiming one after another, making homes for new citizens and adding to our taxable property; and we recommend that our Senators and Assemblymen give this matter their careful attention adopting the system which promises the greatest good to the State, giving it their solid support.

We are in favor of the control of the water storage sites of the Truckee basin, so that they may in time be made useful to the public, without the possibility of their falling into the hands of private monopolies.

We are opposed to bonding Washoe county for any purpose until the question is first submitted to the qualified electors of the county or district upon which the bonds are to be issued, for their approval or rejection.

It is the sense of the Republicans of Washoe county that a Constitutional Convention is necessary in order to secure such reforms in the public service as our small population and material resources demand; and we therefore most earnestly urge upon the voters of this county to cast their ballots in favor of such a convention at the coming election.

The Democratic Ticket.

The Democrat's Saturday met in Convention and nominated a ticket to be voted for in November.

For State Senator they selected Charles A. Gulling, a young man whose business and private record is without a stain. Mr. Gulling is one of Washoe's young business men, strictly honest, and very popular. Should the people choose him as their representative he will work for the interest of the whole State, and particularly for Washoe county.

In the nominations for Assemblymen the selection of Captain A. D. Griffin, B. C. Shearer and F. C. Uptake gives pretty general satisfaction to the party.

Captain Griffin was elected to the Assembly four years ago by a dissatisfied element in the Republican party and made a fair representative.

B. C. Shearer is the manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company's office here, and is a young man of promise.

Every man, woman and child in the county knows Mr. Uptake, the painter, so we will not canvass his chances.

The Convention nominated the present incumbents for Sheriff, Recorder and Long-term Commissioner, but if the Republicans are true to their party, they will not get in this time.

George Smith of Steamboat valley was nominated for Short-term Commissioner and Richard Ryland for Treasurer. Dick is a rustler from away back, and will make Dan Boyd sail close to the wind.

The ticket as a whole is a fairly good one, and worthy the party's consideration.

BILL ARR, the famous Georgia humorist, has contributed to the Atlanta Constitution one of the best illustrations of the value of the home market that has come to the front:

"You know I was an old-fashioned Democrat, brought up to believe in free-trade and sailors' rights. I am now, but something has happened. I own a little farm near Cartersville. I used to gather my corn and sell it in Atlanta for whatever they would give me. I had some pasture land for my stock and raised wheat, vegetables and fruit in a small way. What we could not consume was wasted. When the tariff went into operation old Joe Brown started some iron development near by and the Cartersville station became quite a village. The day before I left home I sold seventeen loads of hay. Buyers didn't bargain for it, but came and took all I could spare at my own price. I haven't sold a bushel of corn in several years. Those felled come and buy it by the dozen for roasting ears. It's so with everything that grows on my land. I cannot raise as much as they want. I'm in favor of the thing that did it; so I'm a Protectionist."

It is rumored that the Santa Rosa, Cal., woolen mill, which has been long idle, will soon start again. The owners are Democrats, but apparently they see some good in the McKinley bill. If all the Democrats who are profiting by Republican legislation could be stood up in a row what an array of honest workers and political hypocrites they would make!

Now THAT the Bureau of Printing and Engraving is turning out $10 silver notes at the rate of $250,000 daily there is a prospect of early relief of the money market. Other small demonstrations will soon follow.

HON. R. R. BIGELOW, the Republican candidate for Supreme Judge, has just returned from a tour of the southern part of the State, and speaks very hopefully of the outlook for the election of the Republican ticket.

ORMSBY, it is said, will roll up two hundred majority for the Republican ticket. Esmeralda is good for one hundred or more, and Lyon for one hundred and fifty.

TOM CRUSE'S CAREER.

A Story That Illustrates the Ups and Downs of Western Life.

The history of the thrice-millionaire, banker of Helena, Mont., Thomas Cruse, as told by the Chicago Tribune, illustrates the ups and downs of Western life and sets in strong contrast the two extremes of absolute, groveling poverty and extraordinary affluence.

"Six years ago Tom Cruse," says Thomas M. Long, "was only a common, ordinary laborer, a prospector and a miner. He had spent almost his last nickel, was out of luck, and, being out of money, it naturally follows he had very few friends. Indeed, he was so poor that I well remember the day when he was actually refused credit for a fifty-pound sack of flour. He did odd jobs about town—anything so long as he turned an honest dollar. One day he took a tramp into the mountains. When he came back to town he astonished everybody by reporting the discovery of what has since turned out to be one of the richest silver mines in Montana. He pre-empted the place and made every thing solid in his own name. This mine was the famous Drum Lummard in the mountains near Maysville, twenty-one miles from Helena. A syndicate of capitalists, hearing of his great find, went out to investigate it. The results surpassed even their expectations, and on their way back to town they sought old man Cruse. Would he sell the mine? Yes. How much? Five hundred thousand dollars spot cash. That was too much, they thought. 'Well, gentlemen, if you think it is too much don't take it,' said Cruse. 'This offer is good until noon, but no longer. I'll have another price on it after that.' They thought he was bluffing. The next day, after further investigation, they came back to Cruse. They told the old man they were ready to pay the $500,000 and for him to draw up the papers. 'My price to-day is $1,000,000,' said Cruse. Of course there was no deal possible under the circumstances. Cruse could then get all the capital he wanted to work his mine. Before three months had passed he had pulled out $300,000 worth of ore and there was still unlimited quantities—millions, in fact—in sight. The syndicate came back to him and actually paid him $1,000,000 for a two-third interest in the Drum Lummard.

"Since that time Cruse has bought other mines, the Iron Mountain, for instance, in the Coeur d'Alene region, and others. He is worth to-day $5,000,000. He was married a couple of years ago, but his wife died, leaving him a child, 'Old Man' Cruse, as he is called, is a good old fellow, who delights now in talking about his hard times. When he came to Montana six years ago he walked all the way from Salt Lake City. That's the way fortune smiles sometimes."

A MUSICAL PRODIGY.

A Four-Year-Old Girl Who Plays the Organ Correctly.

This quiet town has been suddenly startled by the development of a baby musician named Lydia Welch, a child of only four years, writes a Milton (Del.) correspondent. Her father is John B. Welch, the leading druggist of the town and superintendent of the Methodist Sunday-school and leader of the choir in the same church. Some few months ago this child showed a wonderful talent for singing. People passing the house humming popular airs were observed by her, and the next day the people were surprised to hear their airs reproduced in an infantile voice. The child had but to hear a tune once before she could reproduce it without a single false note.

Only a short time ago she had a severe attack of diphtheria, and, to the great regret of parents and friends, she lost all her former inclinations to sing. But what was the surprise of her friends when they discovered that all her vocal powers had suddenly been directed into another channel, and from that time instrumental music began to interest her in a wonderful degree.

The only musical instrument that Mr. Welch had about the house was an organ, and upon this one day did the little one begin to play some tune she had heard her father sing. Soon the people learned of the child's wonderful power, and every evening a crowd assembled upon the sidewalks adjoining the house to hear her perform.

It is most interesting to watch this little prodigy with her tiny hands upon the keys and feet scarcely reaching the pedals, play all the popular airs and reproducing any tune, even the most difficult, after once hearing it performed. Any music once hummed or whistled in her presence is reproduced upon the organ.

The whole town is proud of this musical prodigy and the parents are delighted while at the same time they are somewhat startled at the almost superhuman talent displayed by this precocious child, who does not yet know her alphabet.

Curiosities of Dreams.

When it comes to stories of queer dreams, the person most reticent about this form of self-revelation is likely to think it not to speak of some extraordinary experience in the Land of Nod. When Dr. Holmes "saw huge fishes boiled to rags bob through the bubbling brine" in his famous nightmare of a hot day, he set reminiscences going in many a brain crossed by thoughts of rash suppers like his own. Two men drifted upon the topic somehow the other day, and one confessed to a terror oft repeated in his dreams of the roof falling down upon him. "My favorite nightmare," returned the other, "is of a huge dog rushing at me to devour me. But I always bravely take hold of his jaw, tear him apart, and so save myself from destruction." The first speaker smiled sheepishly. "I've dreamed that myself hundreds of times," said he, "and I never spoke of it. I didn't suppose any body else ever dreamed such a foolish thing."

A Vegetable Chameleon.

An exploring party surveying the Isthmus of Tehuantepec reports the discovery of a flower that changes its color with the hours of the day. In the morning it is grayish white, at noon red, and towards sunset purplish or grayish-blue. Certain varieties of Ipomoea (morning-glory, etc.), according to Prof. Hermes, show a similar peculiarity, though in a less pronounced degree, at the time of the first opening of their flower-chalice.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Peculiar

In Combination, Proportion, and Process of preparation, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Other medicines require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has attained such popularity in so short a time. It is Peculiar to itself.

Peculiar in the originality and effectiveness of its advertising, its methods are continually being copied by competitors.

Peculiar in the way it wins the people's confidence, one bottle always sells another.

A Nipe Old Age.

S. H. Holcomb and wife, of Belcher, Texas, have celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary and are still hale and hearty. The secret of their long life and good health is that they correct any slight ailment promptly, and in that way avoid serious sickness. Like most every one else, they are more frequently troubled with constipation than any other physical disorder. To correct this they take St. Patrick's pills in preference of any other, because, as Mr. Holcomb says, "They are a mild pill and, besides, keep the whole system in good order. We prize them very highly." For sale by Shoemaker & Co., druggists.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove poisons, boils, skin rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Stimulate the Blood.

Brandreth's Pills are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative, suppurative and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Brandreth's Pills are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless and safe to take at any time.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

There may be persons in this community who are times troubled with colic, or subject to attacks of bowel complaint. If so, they should try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It will afford almost immediate relief, and when reduced with water is pleasant to take. If taken as soon as the first indications of the disease are felt it will ward off the attack. Many people use it in this way, and find that it never fails them.

NEWLANDS' BOOK.

Suggestions as to a General Plan

The county would thus have the storage system which I have acquired, and which, in its present condition, is sufficient to protect from drought a largely increased area of land, and is capable of great development at comparatively little expense, as well as about 75,000 acres of land, the total cost of which would be about $153,750, or a little over two dollars per acre. Every acre of this land could be put under irrigation and would be worth nearly as much as the irrigated land on the Truckee Meadows, which sells from $75 to $150 per acre. Assuming that it would be worth when under irrigation and with water rights attached only $40 per acre, the total value of it would be $3,000,000.

What would it cost to put this land into a condition which would make it thus valuable? It is certainly an extravagant estimate to say that the completion of the storage system necessary for this work would cost $150,000 in addition to what has been expended. My own judgment is that a much less sum would accomplish all the storage required. Then two canals would have to be constructed, one capable of carrying 25,000 inches, to be taken out of the Truckee river above Essex, and thence running to Lemmon's valley. The canal could be carried around this valley and across the ridge into Warm Springs valley, and would thus supply 45,000 acres of land, as the land would gradually become saturated, the estimated allowance of one inch to the acre (which I am satisfied is an unnecessary estimate) would be unnecessary. I have had a survey of this canal made. It is practical, but expensive. It will cost about $425,000.

The second canal, intended to supply 30,000 acres of land lying east of Wadsworth, would be taken out from the Truckee river above that town, and would cost about $150,000.

The items of cost of the proposed scheme would be as follows:

Reimbursement to myself for expenditures made in Truckee river storage	$50,000
Cost of 75,000 acres of land	93,750
Cost of additional storage	150,000
Cost of two canals	575,000
Add for contingencies	121,250
Total	$1,000,000

75,000 acres of land, valued at $40 per acre, would be worth $3,000,000. Deducting cost, $1,000,000. Leaves profit of $2,000,000.

After parting with the land the county would still own the storage works and canals, and could charge for the use of the water at least one dollar and fifty cents per acre, which would give the county an income of $112,500 per annum. This, in itself, after paying the cost of maintenance, would be ample to yield the county a fair rate of interest upon the original amount invested in storage and irrigation works.

So it is safe to say that whatever the county receives from the sale of 75,000 acres of land, with water rights attached, would be clear profit. If the land sold for forty dollars per acre the profit would be $3,000,000. If it sold for thirty dollars per acre the profit would be $2,250,000. If it sold for only twenty dollars per acre the profit would be $1,500,000. In conveying the land the county would attach to it a water right of one-half an inch to the acre, exacting, as is done in Fresno county, California, an annual payment of one dollar and fifty cents for maintenance and interest on the investment.

In order to enter upon this work the county would have to be authorized to borrow $1,000,000 and to issue bonds therefor which would be secured by the storage works, the canal property and the lands, as well as the general credit of the county. If this work were not undertaken by the county, it might be done by the State by means of a State reclamation commission, such as that at present existing, and in that event the State would make the expenditure and also the profit.

So also on the Carson. As shown on the map of the Carson river irrigation and water-storage system, the lands capable of irrigation amount to over 150,000 acres. Irrigated land in Douglas county readily sells at from forty to sixty dollars per acre, which would make a total of $7,500,000 for this land. The title to all this land is vested in the General Government, with the exception of the 22,500 acres in Upper Carson valley belonging to Dangberg, Greeley, Noteware, Springmeyer and others, as heretofore explained, about 7,000 acres in Lyon county belonging to the railroad, and the land which I have recently acquired from the State and which I hold subject to any enterprise it may inaugurate during the coming winter. The State can select for itself all the land, the title to which is now in the General Government.

If all the owners of these desert lands would restore their lands to the State at cost, as I am willing to do, the State would then have 150,000 acres of land at a cost of, say, $187,500. I own or control almost all of the Lower Carson reservoir site, all of the Lower Carson reservoir site, and a part of the Middle Carson reservoir site, and have expended in all upon the Carson river for reservoir sites, surveys and lands about $25,000. The cost of canals necessary to lead the water to these lands would amount to very little, probably not more than $150,000, for the reason it is very easy to take out the water of the Carson, as the arid lands sought to be irrigated lie near the level of the river itself, and not upon high valleys and table lands, as in the Truckee basin. The cost of all the dams for the three Carson river reservoirs above named would not exceed $500,000, and this I believe to be a very high estimate.

The cost of the whole enterprise would then be as follows:

Cost of land	$187,500
Reimbursement to myself for expenditures made for reservoir sites, etc.	25,000
Cost of main canals	150,000
Cost of three reservoirs	500,000
Add for contingencies	137,500
Total	$1,000,500

Leaves a profit of $2,000,000. I have not estimated in the cost of the Carson and Truckee river enterprises the cost of distributing ditches, for these are generally constructed by the settlers themselves. In addition to this, the State would secure as revenue from the water rights attached to these lands the sum of one dollar and a half per acre, making $225,000 per annum, which would pay for maintenance and return a large rate of interest upon the original investment.

This Carson river enterprise could be undertaken by the State, or by a water district, consisting of Douglas, Ormsby, Lyon and Churchill counties, which would issue their bonds, secured by the reservoirs, canals and lands, as well as by the general credit of the district. If both enterprises, namely, that on the Truckee as well as that on the Carson, were undertaken by the State by means of a board of reclamation commissioners, it is readily seen that from the profits on the lands and the income derived from the reservoirs and canals, a fund for reclamation could be established which would ultimately reclaim every acre of land capable of reclamation in the State. If, however, it should be concluded that neither the State, the counties nor districts can enter safely upon the work of construction of dams and canals, owing to the danger of dishonesty or extravagance which frequently attends the construction of public works, it seems to me that it would be a wise policy for the State, or the counties, or districts, to acquire the available reservoir sites, and also the title to all Government land within their reach. Otherwise there would be danger of such land and sites falling into the hands of individuals for speculative purposes, which would seriously interfere with all our projected enterprises. The State having acquired the reservoir sites and the lands subsiding to them, can then negotiate upon favorable terms with contractors or capitalists for their development, looking for its reward to the increase of the taxable property of the State, and not to the profits of the undertaking. In all such cases the State should have general supervision of the work done by private enterprise, and wise laws should be enacted to protect the capital so invested and regulate and control the distribution of the water so as to secure equality of right.

Of course a long time would be required in carrying out and completing the enterprises so easily projected on paper, and many disappointments would occur which cannot now be easily foreseen, but it is safe to say that the State has in its 2,000,000-acre grant, not yet exhausted, a basis for the organization of a reclamation scheme which would soon develop the basins of the Truckee, Carson, Walker and Humboldt rivers, and lead eventually to the reclamation of other valleys. Along the Humboldt particularly the union of the Central Pacific Railroad grant, and the 2,000,000-acre grant, would yield large and continuous bodies of rich and productive land, to which water by some wise system could be applied.

The first step the State should take is to stop sales under its 2,000,000-acre grant, to employ on experienced hydraulic and irrigation engineers, and after having laid out a broad and comprehensive plan, to enter upon the work, or to entrust it to county or district organization, or to private enterprise as may be deemed advisable. This communication is addressed to the public before the next session of the political conventions and the session of the Legislature in the hope that it may furnish food for reflection and result in the adoption of a broad and comprehensive policy. The purchases which I have made and to which I have alluded have simply been made to aid this work, and without view of profit, but if the State should not take charge of the matter at the coming session of the Legislature, I shall then hold myself free to pursue such a course (as a matter of enterprise and profit), as I may deem proper, either to secure the reimbursement of my expenditures or the development of my purchases.

Human Frailty.
We are frail creatures physically—the most robust among us. The unhealthy man or woman is in great need of the benefits of society. If for instance, biliousness, a trouble of conscience, a doubt of regular action in the bowels, and often obstinate resistance of ordinary medication, obstructs the harmonious action of the liver and the bowels, the sufferer is sure to be despondent. The three disorders conditions are sure to be confirmed by neglect. Under the erroneous impression that there is no hope for him, an impression in all likelihood confirmed by the use of objectionable remedies, the sufferer is apt to become negligent, even reckless, and the sooner he is removed from the sphere of human endeavor the best for all parties concerned. What a series of mistakes! His liver is responsible. It is an important part of himself. How dispiriting! By the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Balm, a certain medium for the removal of biliousness, the sufferer is restored to health, liver and bowels. It also prevents malaria, rheumatic and kidney troubles.

A DENIAL.

He Did Not Blow Out the Gas in His Room.

EDITOR GAZETTE: The item that appeared in the Journal, charging Mr. Winters with blowing out the gas while at Virginia City, is not true. Mr. Winters says he turned out the gas as is his custom when in a hotel.

It is also his custom to light a match after turning out the gas and pass it when burning over the jet, which custom he observed at the International Hotel at Virginia. If there was gas escaping in his room it came from defective fixtures; that he could not discover any odor of gas in his room at any time. He says he has been in first-class hotels much of the time during his life and knows how to go to bed in a hotel.

THIRTY YEARS' PRACTICE.

A Letter from an Eminent Physician.

MR. EDITOR: At the risk of incurring a proprietary preparation, I have a few words in favor of a new laxative principle. But first, how I came to discover it. A patient asked about taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. As sarsaparilla usually contains mercury or iodides I objected, and asked for the formula, which finding purely vegetable, and so mild as to be to my mind almost inert, I consented. Imagine my astonishment when perfect laxative action was reported. It has two great points. First, being purely vegetable, it is (unlike mercury) not cumulative in the system, being easily carried off by the digestive processes; and second, it is effective with a less quantity of the cathartic principle than has hitherto been attainable. It is in this respect ranks as a discovery, and approaches the ideal, viz, the least medicine consistent with the greatest good. It harmonizes natural laxative action and perfect safety, and should interest both the public and the profession.

A Cure for Sick Headache.
This distressing complaint is due to an inactive or sluggish liver with constipated bowels which derange the stomach and disturb the nervous system, causing dizziness, headache, and general malaise. The bowels, often so severe as to prevent all rest or sleep. One of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills will relieve you of all these ailments and a few more doses will correct the liver and stomach and regulate the bowels. While these pills are small, easily taken, and mild and gentle in their action, they will cure sick headache, constipation, and all other ailments of the bowels. 25 cents a box. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lung, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Begun taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jesse Middleton, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of lung trouble, was given up by doctors; am now a new man, and able to take care of my family and best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at Pininger's drug store.
